From Chambers Journal.

A DEATH-DEED PROMISE.

From the darkened chamber where Philip

Stourton lay sick of a mortal disease, the doctor had taken his departure, and he lay alone, and in the silence of the night, he thought of the future, and of the life that lay before him. He thought of the life that lay before him, and of the

life that lay before him, and of the

life that lay before him, and of the

life that lay before him, and of the

life that lay before him, and of the

life that lay before him, and of the

life that lay before him, and of the

life that lay before him, and of the

life that lay before him, and of the

life that lay before him, and of the

life that lay before him, and of the

life that lay before him, and of the

life that lay before him, and of the

life that lay before him, and of the

life that lay before him, and of the

life that lay before him, and of the

life that lay before him, and of the

life that lay before him, and of the

life that lay before him, and of the

life that lay before him, and of the

life that lay before him, and of the

life that lay before him, and of the

life that lay before him, and of the

life that lay before him, and of the

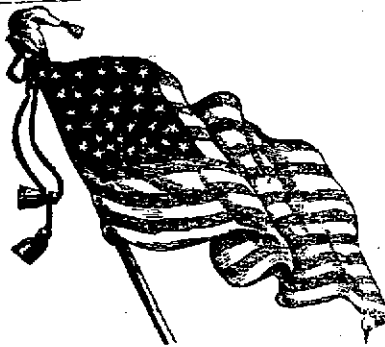

life that lay before him, and of the

life that lay before him, and of the Breave float that standard sheet—

Where breathes the foe but falls before us?
With Freedom's banner streaming over us!

WALL DORA.—The Fort Atkinson Standard says: "At the League meeting a week ago, a letter was read asking for vegetables for the sick soldiers around and near Vicksburg. Potatoes, onions, cabbages, and ready to ship in three days. Committees were appointed in every school district to gather up what was given, and bring it to the depot. By Thursday night there was a hundred barrels at the depot ready to be sent off. What place in Wisconsin can do better in four days?"

CONFISCATED.—An oil refinery, in Buffalo, has been confiscated with all its contents, for an attempt of the proprietors, to evade the tax under the United States law. The value of the property is about $18,000.

Mrs. James S. Brown, wife of the member of congress from the 1st district, died of consumption in Cincinnati on the 16th.

A bill has been introduced into the assembly to approve a form of conveyance of real estate in the city of Janesville.

A bill has passed the senate empowering the town of Spring Valley, in this county, to levy a tax for paying bounties to volunteers.

ROBBERY IN RACINE.—The store of J. D. Jones, in Racine, was entered Tuesday night, and $2000 worth of clothes and cassimere taken.

FAST DAY IN MASSACHUSETTS.—Governor Andrew has appointed Thursday, April 23, as the annual fast day in Massachusetts.

MILITARY APPOINTMENTS.—The following commissions have been issued by Gov. Salomon:

Third Regiment.—To Lieut. Col. Wm. Hawley as colonel, vice Ruger promoted; to Major John W. Scott as lieutenant, vice Hawley.

Fourth Regiment.—To Lieut. Col. E. S. Briggs as colonel, vice Cutler, promoted; to Major Rufus B. Dawes as lieutenant, vice Briggs; to Capt. F. Hauser as Major, vice Dawes.

Fifth Regiment.—Lieut. Col. S. E. Bean as colonel, vice Paine promoted; Major F. Boardman as lieutenant, vice Bean; Capt. J. Bailey as major, vice Boardman.

Col. Moody said in his Springfield, Ohio, Washington's birthday speech:

Ask a rebel prisoner what is their hope of success, and their inevitable reply is: "A divided north—the democratic party, and will flippantly quote Vallandigham, Olmsted and other traitors to our holy cause—and say: 'What do you think of that?' We reply that they are but craven cormorants, seeking office at the expense of patriotism, and are as contemptible in point of numbers as they are in point of character. And of other days, by transmigration, and are doomed politically, to as quick a death, and to as deep and dark and desperate a damnation as their infamous anti-types. [Cheers.]

COMPLIMENT TO THE THIRD WISCONSIN REGIMENT.—The 3d Wisconsin boys have recently received a compliment from Gen. Hooker. He has issued an order, specifying regiments from which no leaves of absence will be granted on account of lack of discipline and efficiency. He specifies 11 regiments, which from inspection have earned high commendation. One of these eleven regiments is the 3d Wisconsin. An officer of the 3d writes:

"Notice that Gen. Hooker only awards this praise to eleven excellent regiments. Out of 300 regimental organizations, eleven are taken as the highest standard, and the old Third is one of them. It is the very best recommendation of us that could be given."

FIVE JOHN PORTER'S SUCCESSORS.—Lieut. Col. Oliver L. Shepherd, of the 18th United States infantry, has been promoted to the colonelcy of the 15th infantry, vice Fitz John Porter. Col. Shepherd greatly distinguished himself at the battle of Gettysburg, and was reported killed. He is a native of New York, and has been in the service 28 years.

REWARD OF MURDER.—The Christian Index gives the following simple fact: Col. Calhoun, of South Carolina, challenged Major Rhet, of his own regiment, and the result of the duel was the death of Col. Calhoun. In direct contravention to the articles of war, Maj. Rhet is not punished, because as Gen. Beauregard says, the twenty-fifth article, requiring the punishment of deserting among officers, has been waived by the fact, because of its severity. But the death of Col. Calhoun leaves his office vacant, and Maj. Rhet, by regular promotion, assumes the office left vacant by the man he has just slain.

The financial exhaustion, of the rebels is strikingly proved by the fact, that, according to the rebel secretary of the treasury, for every dollar expended by them in the war they have not been able to raise more than three cents by taxation.—Pretence.

EMPLOYMENT FOR COPPERHEADS.—The southern papers have numerous advertisements calling for substitutes. As high as $1,800 to $2,000 have been offered in the Richmond Enquirer and Dispatch. Copperheads out of employment, and "spilling for a fight," would do themselves credit by escaping from a land so ungenial to their tastes, and accepting of these offers. Should they get possession of these bounties, they would be in possession of more money than they ever had before in all their lives.

SENATE.—The senate spent all of last evening in committee of the whole on Sen. Pratt's tax bill.

This morning Sen. Hamilton introduced a bill for the relief of civil engineers and their corps engaged in the survey or construction of railroad lines. A bill for the settlement of the ancient and venerable claim of the Rock River Canal Company against the state, if such claim is just, was introduced by Sen. F. O. Thorp.

Sen. Young, from the joint committee to whom was referred Sen. Vilas' joint resolution in relation to enlarged facilities for transportation of Wisconsin products eastward to the Atlantic coast and to Europe, submitted an elaborate report, recommending the adoption of the resolutions with various amendments. [The chief amendment authorizes the governor to appoint 25 delegates from this state, to attend the annual enlargement convention, which has been called to meet in Chicago in June next, for the consideration of measures leading to enlarged facilities of transportation to and from Wisconsin.]

—Last evening, bills were introduced to repeal the law requiring advertisement of delinquent tax lists; to suppress secret political societies; to amend tax laws, so when by mistake a man pays another man's tax on lands, the amount so paid is a lien on such lands; to repeal act of 1861, limiting amount of taxation in certain cases; relative to execution against corporations; allowing appeals from tax assessments; to amend statutes in relation to the bills passed, was one in regard to revenue stamps, requiring them to be placed on tax deeds.

Mr. Walworth's resolutions after being made joint resolutions, were unanimously adopted.

Bills were introduced to amend the law in regard to terms of university regents; to repeal act of '69 concerning proceedings against vessels; to make insurances void for divorce; and in regard to lands sold for delinquent taxes. A number of bills were passed, none, however, of great importance.

A bill supplementary to the statutes in regard to common schools being before the house this morning, Mr. Divine Economy Sanborn moved an amendment, the purpose of which, as he explained, was to exclude all colored children from the public schools. Mr. Sharpstein, of Milwaukee, said he could not vote for the amendment.

The city of Milwaukee, which he represented, was one of the democratic strongholds of the state. The people there were generally as sound on the negro question as any where; but colored children were admitted to all the schools there, and while this was the practice of his constituents, he should not vote for a proposition like the pending one. Mr. H. S. Thomas, a strong democrat, in the course of some debate on the same bill, expressed himself in favor of general education, both of white and black children.—Madison Journal.

The following is an extract from a private letter from Acting Rear Admiral David D. Porter, commanding Mississippi squadron:

During the time of the running of the blockade by the Queen of the West and the Indiana, five of the guns in the forts at Vicksburg were burst and dismantled; therefore it was an object to make the enemy fire as much as possible, to get a good idea of the range, and to open up that part of the town where there was nothing but army supplies, and soon provoked a fire of four of their heavy batteries. The shell at first fell over the mortar and around it, bursting close to our men, but the range began to grow shorter, until they let us have it all our own way.

Finding that they could not be provoked to fire without object, I thought of getting up an imitation "Monitor." Prices could I not save it with a wooden one. An old coal barge, picked up in the river, was the foundation to build on. It was built of old boards in twelve hours, with pork barrels on top of each other for smoke stacks and two old canoes for quarter boats. For furnaces were built of mud, and only intended to make black smoke and not steam.

Without knowing that Brown was in peril, I let loose our imitation "Monitor." When it was done, the light of the morn, never did the batteries of Vicksburg open with such a din—the earth fairly trembled, and the shot flew thick around the devoted "Monitor." But she can safely past all the batteries, though under fire for an hour, and drifted down to the lower mouth of the canal. She was a much better looking vessel than the Indiana.

When it was broad daylight they opened on her again, without a shot hitting her to bring her to anchor, because they did not make her settle in the water, though going in at one side and out at the other. She was already full of water. The soldiers of our army shouted and laughed like mad, but the laugh was somewhat against them when they subsequently discovered the Queen of the West lying at the wharf at Warrenton.

The question was asked what was the result of the Indiana's visit. The two rams sunk her or captured her in the engagement we had on night before? The sounds of cannon had receded down the river, which led us to believe that Brown was chasing the Webb, and that the Queen of the West had got up past her.

One or two soldiers got the "Monitor" on the stream again, and let her go down on the ram Queen; all the forts commenced firing and signalling, and as the "Monitor" approached the Queen she was sunk, and ran down the river as fast as she could go, the "Monitor" after her, making all the speed that was given her by a five-knot current. The forts at Warrenton fired heavily and rapidly, but the "Monitor" did not return the fire with her wooden gun.

THE GREAT EXPEDITION FROM THE ATLANTIC COAST.—Latest advice from Port Royal, S. C., states that the body of blacks, had departed on an important expedition, expected to land in Florida, and to proceed thence into Georgia. A correspondent says:

"These negro soldiers will have more important work on hand than standing behind breastworks and offering themselves up as food for the forces of the south. In Florida, if in no other place, they are of great value, and will be ordered not only to hold their own, but to advance and capture the rebel Jim Montgomery, of Kansas who is removing to the kingdom of Abraham the First in large numbers."

Crowkers will please to note that while gold is just now a rather uncertain article of merchandise in the loyal states, even at the present premium, the rebel finances are rapidly reaching the old "Continental" standards of value.

It is also rather significant that the foreign residents should be so anxious to leave the confederacy, while the copperheads are declaring in favor of the rebellion. These foreign residents are, outside of official circles, the best informed as to the condition and prospects of the rebel cause. When they are anxious to desert the ship, there must be some strong indications of its sinking.—Fond du Lac Commonwealth.

UNION.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?—The money article in the last Richmond Dispatch received at New York, has the following suggestive item:

"Subsequent to our last report, a further decided advance in the premium on gold was established, $3.50 being the selling rate yesterday and to-day, and $3.25 for silver. The advance is believed to be owing to the demand from foreign buyers, who are removing to the kingdom of Abraham the First in large numbers."

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.—The medical director of the army of the Potomac has just made a report, showing that at no period since the war was organized has the health of the army of the Potomac been so good. The loss by sickness in the rebel army across the Rappahannock is reported by the same authority to be very large.

An important treaty has been concluded between the Chippewa Indians of the Upper Mississippi and the government, by which the Chippewas cede to the government five reservations, comprising some of the most valuable lands in Minnesota. One of the provisions of the treaty is, that the government is authorized to provide a board of visitors, whose business will be to be present at all payments made by Indian agents, and report all irregularities of conduct among employees of the government.

Some of the most disgraceful and flagrant abuses that have heretofore prevailed will be stopped. The rebels retained near Gulf Lake, and the Indians have agreed to move sixty miles farther north.

U. S. MESSIAH BATHING, Yazoo River, March 10.

To Hon. Gideon Welles, Secretary of the Navy: I have been pretty well assured that the Indiana has been blown up in consequence of the explosion of a wooden mine in her batteries. The monitor was a valuable aid to us. It forced away the Queen of the West, and caused the blowing up of the Indiana.

The following is an account of the affair taken from the Vicksburg Whig of the 6th inst. "DESTRUCTION OF THE INDIANA.—We stated a day or two since that we would not then enlighten our readers in regard to a matter which was puzzling them very much. We allude to the loss of the gunboat Indiana, recently captured from the enemy. We were loth to acknowledge that she had been destroyed, but such is the case. The Yankee barge sent to blow up this monster would retake the Indiana, immediately issued an order to burn her. This order was sent down by courier to the officer of the boat. A few hours after another order was sent down commanding the first, it having been ascertained that the monster craft was nothing more than a coal boat. But, before it reached the Indiana, she had been blown to atoms. Not even a gun was saved. Who is to blame for this piece of folly? Is this precipitancy? It would really seem that we had no use for gunboats on the Mississippi, as a coal barge is magnified into a monster, and our authorities order a boat which would have been worth a small army to us to be blown up."

JANESVILLE, March 19, 1863.

Editors GAZETTE:—Sat. Clark, in the course of his remarks in this city, the other evening, said if he were President of the United States he would dismiss the Union armies and send them home. So say the copperheads everywhere. Now I would like to direct the attention of such men to the fact that small fragments of our armies are, from one cause and another, permitted to come home; and also, that their presence here in the north has already been marked by the destruction of some six or eight newspaper offices which have sought to promulgate such sentiments as were uttered by that gentleman in his address here, and ask him and his friends what they suppose, considering these facts, would become of their party should the whole army be sent home? Would it not be as well for the copperheads that our armies be kept employed where they are?

History of the Madison Hotel.

The following private history of the "Madison Hotel" has been handed us, and will be read with interest by all the old settlers:

In the winter and spring of 1838, the "Madison Hotel" was built by Hon. A. A. Bird, of this city, and was kept the first year by Charles Bird, his brother, now of Sun Prairie. On the first of June, 1838, the first session of the territorial supreme court met and organized in the house, Hon. Chas. Dunn, of Lafayette county, chief justice. In December of the same year, the territorial legislature convened, and the now venerable Gov. Dodge and the leading members of that body took rooms at the Madison Hotel. Chas. Bird was succeeded by W. W. Wyman, now of Nebraska territory, and after him A. A. Bird, the proprietor, took the hotel and kept it four years. During this period of time, powerful efforts were made, at each session of the legislature, to remove the capital from Madison, and it was at this hotel the friends of Madison made their headquarters, Bird standing the expense of looking after the warring members of that body looking for schemes to defeat the removal. A friend of Madison from abroad, could obtain from Bird, champagne, and his last cent or unlimited credit, and his only hope of remuneration was to exhaust the resources of the enemy and ruin his credit.

Bird was succeeded by Jesse A. Clark, now deceased, who purchased the property, and after keeping the house a short time, leased it to a Mr. Quiver, who built an addition, and again, after him, his lessor, Clark, kept the house until the first of December, 1845, when he sold to Chas. Bussell, now of Minnesota, and Wm. Welch, of this city. Bussell sold to J. D. Welch, who, with his brother, kept the house some time, when W. Welch leased his interest to H. W. Yager, now deceased. Soon after, P. H. Van Bergen purchased J. D. Welch's interest, and with the other Welch kept the house until 1848, when it was leased for one year to Chas. Welch, now deceased, and he was succeeded by Wm. Van Bergen, also now deceased, the brother of P. H. Van Bergen. Van Bergen kept the house until 1849, when P. H. again took the property, and finally, in 1853, in October, purchased the hotel interest of W. Welch and became sole proprietor. He soon after sold to B. F. Perry, and since that time the writer hereof knows nothing of the private history of the old hotel, except that it has been occupied by numerous persons, and is now owned by the name of Slater, changed the name of the hotel to that of his own; and then, again, it was occupied by a gentleman of the name of Osborn, who gave his own cognomen to the establishment. But the old building finally went down as the "Madison Hotel," and by that name it will ever be known in the history of Madison.

Peace to its ashes.

Home Questions.—The Albany Journal

calls attention to the significant fact that the Home Sentinel, a democratic organ of the copperhead species, takes the Union server, another democratic organ, to task for pretending to be in favor of the war. The latter having insisted that the democratic party was in favor of saving the Union, even by fighting for it, the Sentinel wickedly asks these pointed questions: "In favor of the war, are we, neighbor? Then how is it that we nominated Thomas H. Seymour in Connecticut—that we elected James W. Wall to the United States senate from New Jersey—that in every state where we have had the legislature, resolutions in favor of peace have been passed? How is it that our party in congress vote solid against every one of Mr. Lincoln's 'war measures'?"

The Sentinel is evidently disgusted with the fast-and-loose policy of its friends. It can't understand how they can at once favor "this wicked war," and yet place obstacles in the way of its successful prosecution. And its perplexity is natural.—Chicago Tribune.
